GRAND MARSHAL

Craig Martin

Craig is the author of 20 books about outdoor recreation in New Mexico and the history of Los Alamos and the surrounding areas...

Born and raised in the suburbs of Philadelphia, Craig Martin fell in love with the mountains of New Mexico at the age of 12 when a fellow Boy Scout shared pictures of a backpacking trip to Philmont Scout Ranch near Cimarron. He moved to Los Alamos in 1987, extensively exploring the area on foot, bicycle, and skis. In May 2000, the Cerro Grande fire in Los Alamos focused Craig's attention on community and landscape recovery.

As project manager for the Volunteer Task Force, Craig helped coordinate rebuilding of trails, planting pine seedlings, and involving the community in watershed restoration...

Craig served as the Los Alamos County Open Space Specialist for 12 years before retiring to spend more time playing jazz in his band "The Craig Martin Experience", photographing plants, birds, and landscape, and writing about the natural history of New Mexico.
